The End or the Beginning?

That magic word is here again. That magic word spelled commencement. All of the Sophomore class is ready to "get out for good" and the Freshman class is just ready to "get out." No matter what the class or student, all of us should think of commencement in other ways than as "the time to leave." Commencement in itself doesn't imply the end of anything, but the beginning.

For some it may be the beginning of a dull, drab routine, a routine of eight-hour days, of six-day weeks, and of never-ending work. For some it will be a routine of 8 o'clock classes, of hard teachers and short vacations. For some it may be the start of a life that is hard and cold.

For most of us, however, it isn't the beginning of a hard and cold life, but a life full of promise and hope, a life that offers 24 hours a day and 365 days a year to fill as we please. It isn't the end of study. It's the beginning, the beginning of a study more vital now than in all 13 or 14 years of schooling thus far, more vital because upon this study may depend our income, our position, and our happiness. Upon this study may depend a higher degree, or maybe, in a detached way, the satisfaction of learning for knowledge.

Commencement is the beginning. Whether it will be a beginning of dull drudgery or of glistening hope is up to us. After all, it's our commencement to make of it what we will. We can begin to take our place in society, and society presents an opportunity. In order to succeed, however, we must recognize that we are just beginning and that we must work for our goals, whatever they be.

Many Participate in Conferences

Four Juco Students Represent D.E. Club At Annual Convention

Four members of the Distributive Education Club of the College attended the tenth annual convention of Distributive Education clubs of America week before last in St. Louis.

Next year's convention will be held in Oklahoma City.

Y.W.-Y.M. Delegates Go to State Conference

Four Junior College students attended the spring conference of the Student Association of Missouri at Camp Pa-He-Tsi on the Lake of the Ozarks late last month. The theme of the state-wide conference was "All Be One."

Margaret Tignor, Marian Herrin, John White, and Jim Bridges attended the event, accompanied by Miss Phyllis Norton director of teen-age activities for the Y. W. C. A.

The key-note speaker for the meeting was Miss Adele Sweeney, associate executive national of the Y. W. C. A. staff, who spoke on "The Role of the 'Y' on College Campuses" and on "Interpersonal Relations." Helen Johnson, Danforth Foundation graduate, spoke on "Personal Leadership."

Science Delegation Attends Workshop

Three teachers and two students were guests of Drury College at the science teaching workshop week before last.

Assistant Dean Vernon A. C. Gevecker of Rolla School of Mines and Metallurgy, and Dr. Luke C. Steiner, head of the Chemistry department of Oberlin College at Oberlin, Ohio, served as principal speakers. Dr. Steiner spoke on "We Need Intellectuals" followed by Dr. Gevecker's discussion of "Engineering in the Liberal Arts."

Following the talks, many faculty and student guests toured the testing laboratories of the Frisco Railroad in Springfield.

James Willey, E. L. McClymond, and Miss Eula Ratekin accompanied by Richard Huggins and Tom Dunphy, participated in the individual consultations. A round table discussion concerning problems in teaching science followed the tour. About 80 visitors attended the conference.

Students See U. A. Play

Four College Players and two faculty members attended a performance of "Ah Wilderness," April 27 at the University of Arkansas. The drama, written by the American playwright Eugene O'Neil, represents youth's first struggles with the outside world.

Fourteen Years on the Same Sea

One bright September morning in 1942 two six-year-olds began that long voyage on the sea of knowledge in the elementary school at Diamond, Missouri. As the classes were promoted from year to year, these same two youngsters advanced together. In May, 1954, they graduated from Diamond High School and in September of that year they entered Joplin Junior College. Now they will graduate again, as members of this year's class.

Yes, for fourteen years Emma Lou Jeans and Jack Armstrong have been in school together. It is not often that students continue with someone who began the first grade with them.

The possibilities are great that Emma and Jack will continue their education at the same institution. Both plan to attend Southwest State College, in Springfield, this fall. Emma will work towards a degree in elementary education, and Jack in accounting.

Thanks to Those Who Served

In every class there are those who unselfishly spend their time directing the activities of the various organizations. They accept their responsibility and do their utmost to assure the success and recognition of their organizations and their school.

Joplin Junior College is no exception to the rule. It is filled with capable, qualified individuals who direct their energy toward the welfare of others. In every phase of campus life, many willingly devote their time and effort to advance social and cultural activities.

Appreciating leadership, the student body recognizes an industrious, qualified person and immediately demands his talents. To be selected as an officer of the Student Senate, as an editor of The Crossroads or The Chart, or to be elected an officer of any organization is an honor usually given to a deserving person.

Those who served as leaders in the College this year certainly merit the appreciation and thanks of every member of the student body. Sincere commendation rightfully belongs to many.

Concert Ticket Sale To End Tomorrow

Members of Phi Theta Kappa are participating in the ticket sales campaign sponsored by the Community Concert Association of Joplin. The seven-day campaign closes tomorrow.

While at J.J.C., Suzanne was a member of Theta Mu Gamma, the Triple Trio, and Tri Betas. She served as music chairman of the Y.W.C.A.

Joplin Civic Symphony In Last Performance

The Joplin Civic Symphony orchestra, sponsored by Joplin Junior College, presented its final concert of the current series at 8:15 last Monday night in Joplin Senior High auditorium.

The first act of Puccini's opera "La Boheme" from the entrance of Mimi to the end of the act was sung by faculty members from the University of Arkansas.

Will Tradition Hold?

A tradition is a custom so long continued that it has almost the force of law. It is an occasion which happens year after year at approximately the same time. Quite unconsciously the Y. W. C. A. has begun such a tradition.

As yet, it has not been continued for too many years and it definitely isn't a law, but the truth came out at the election luncheon—the last three Y. W. presidents have married either while in office or presently thereafter. The question was asked, "If you are elected president, will you keep this tradition?" That, fellow students, is a good question.

The results of the election showed Carla Hoskins the victor. Now we can address our question to her. "Carla, will you keep the tradition or will you break it before it has time to become firmly established?"

Only time can give us the answer. Among those who will be watching are the 1956-57 cabinet members: Barbara Whitehead, vice-president and membership chairman; Pat Sears, secretary; Virginia McCann, treasurer; Patti Page, social chairman; Mary Ella Filewood, worship; Delois Martin, service; Marian Herrin, finance; Elise Moellenhoff and Peggy Alexander, publicity; Janith Olinger and Margaret Tignor, World University Service; Kathryn Walker, program; Marian Scott, reporter; Jane Kirk, music; and Billie Krummel, Easter chairman.

Dr. Litton Helps Plan State Study Of Higher Education

Dean Maurice L. Litton attended a conference of the Division of Higher Education of the Missouri State Teachers Association April 23 at Columbia. The purpose of the meeting was "to complete plans for state-wide study of the needs of higher education in the next two decades."

The three-phase plan is concerned with the increase of college and university students. Predicting as reliably as possible the size and composition of Missouri's college population for the years 1960, 1965 and 1970 will be the purpose of the first part.

College Artists Display Work

Self-expressionism is the theme of the art exhibit now occupying the display boards and cases in the College library. This outstanding exhibit of modern art features the works of several Juco students, including: Jim Ellis, Kay O'Bryant, Gay Straw, Shirley Richardson, Marjorie Bussinger, and Bill Johnson.

In the opinion of Arthur Boles, who supervised the exhibit, these articles need an explanation as to quality or aim, for they follow his advice "to break away from photographic reproduction."

The instructor says that through the work of these students he is demonstrating that art is similar to the design of modern clothing, even though some of the display would not be satisfactory to hang on the walls of a house.

Miami Linksters Lose to Joplin

With greens slowed by a mist-like shower, Coach Buddy Ball's golf squad handed a 12-0 defeat to Northeastern Oklahoma A&M May 1 at Twin Hills Golf and Country Club.

Although the fairways and greens were rain-soaked, the Green and White linksmen turned in magnificent scores in posting their victory over the Oklahomans.

Vernie Hyslop, who heads the J.J.C. rough-dodgers in low scores, toured the front nine in 37 strokes and breezed around the back side in 35 to come in with a low 72 total to defeat Miami's Bill Neal who shot 42-36—78. Vernie received three points for his efforts. Joe McKenzie, second leadoff man for Juco, registered a 40-39—79 total to whip Jim Parker of Miami who shot 43-42—85. Joe also received three points.

Roger Amos, another member of Coach Ball's squad who manages to turn in low scores, tallied a 39-40—79 to whip Claude Donica of Miami who shot 46-49—95. Amos scored three points.

Jim Sullivan, fourth member of Joplin's team in the match, came in with a 55-53—108 to down Hutts of Miami who quit after the fourth hole. Jim received three points for his victory.

Smilin' Sam

Motors roar, the flagman signals, and they're off and running. A battered '34 Ford, with wheels spinning on the wet, muddy track vies for position with its rivals. No. 22 speeds around the fifth of a mile race track striving to bring 1200 pounds of iron, termed "hot-rod," into the coveted winner's circle. "Lady Luck" is oft times not on the driver's side. Twenty-two is crowded into a curve too fast and forced off the banked turn. Flying through the air, end over end, it lands on its specially reinforced top.

Maintenance crews rush out, right the vehicle, and from the machine emerges its pilot, Smilin' Sam Swain, safe and sound. For all appearances, easy going Smilin' Sam looks little like a dare-devil "hot-rod" driver. Twenty-four years old, he's a soft-spoken sophomore at Juco, an Army veteran, married, and the father of one little hot-rodder, four-year-old Danny. Business administration is Sam's major, but he's extremely interested in his hobby, the speed business.

Asked about his motor, Sam became technical, saying, "It's a composite complexity consisting of a '48 Ford block, bored out to .125; a 3/4 camshaft; and has oth-

Juco Athletes To Be Honored Monday Night

Carney Smith, head football coach at Kansas State Teachers College, will be guest speaker at the first annual Circle K Club athletic awards banquet at 6:30 o'clock Monday night in the First Presbyterian Church.

Awards will be presented to this year's football and basketball players and last year's golf and tennis players. Two trophies won by the basketball team will also be presented.

Invitations have been mailed to the athletes' fathers, and about 50 persons are expected to attend the event.

Entertainment will be provided by the girls' triple trio.

er sundry Edmond's speed equipment." (Of course, all speedsters are rather secretive when quizzed about motors.)

Never a big winner, Smilin' Sam hopes for a successful venture this year, as the '56 season gets under way in the area of the Ozark track.

Perhaps the "Lady Luck" will spare him of mishaps common to racing drivers and fulfill his optimistic outlook.

For all who have the urge to be "hi-way hot-rodders" Sam has a word. "If you have to race, please do it on a race track. Speed without safety is a killer."

Attention, Sophomores!

Sophomores, you will receive every issue of the 1956-1957 Chart if you keep us informed of your address. Before you graduate, give your future address to one of the editors, to Miss Lela Smith, or to Miss Cleetis Headlee. No charge is made for copies mailed to former students during the first year after they leave the College.

Sports Synopsis

By Ron Martin

As old man '56 shuts the door on another year of sports at J.J.C. it might be well to glance at a resume of the year's accomplishments in the world of sports.

Since football is the initial sport to hit the Juco campus each year, we might first venture back to the day in November when Joe Haughawout grabbed a punt and ran it into the end zone to defeat the Fort Scott Greyhounds and move Joplin into a tie for conference honors. The Lions wound up the season with a fine record, losing only one conference game.

This, our first year of basketball on the Memorial Hall hardwoods, will probably go down in history as the roundball game's greatest season at J. J. C. Lion cagers walked off with the championship of the Interstate Junior College Conference and made a brilliant showing in the regionals.

Our two spring sports, golf and track, are still in progress. Joplin's thinclads will travel to Lamoni, Iowa, tomorrow for the annual Interstate Juco track meet.
